

TO OUR HONORED DEAD

In a most fitting manner did the Republic of France pay tribute to those who met the supreme sacrifice in the World War. The presentation of the certificates and memorial to the next of kin through their commanders on Sunday at the Colonial Theatre was carried out with fitting exercises. The day—Washington's Birthday, the Father of our Country—gave a touch of patriotic sentiment that should awaken a keener interest in our hearts as to our duty as loyal, patriotic citizens of America.

PRICE TWO CENTS

PRESIDENT HAS R. R. BILL TO SIGN

FRANCE HONORS SOLDIER DEAD WHO DIED FOR HER

Certificates Presented to Next of Kin of Heroes Under the Auspices of the American Legion at Colonial Theatre

American Legion Sunday, was observed in this city on Sunday along with every city in the country, and was made especially interesting from the fact that it was made the occasion of the presentation of the certificates from the French government to the nearest of kin of those who gave their lives in the great battle for liberty in the World War. This was the method taken by France to show her appreciation of the noble sacrifice of the Americans, and a certificate was furnished by that government for every one. The American Legion posts all over the country were asked to make the presentations in the name of the French Republic.

The exercises were held in the Colonial Theatre at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon and there was a large and representative audience including the patriotic societies for which a portion of the centre of the hall was reserved and in the front rows were the nearest of kin of those who had made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

The stage was beautified with potted palms and in the center was a table draped with the American flag and here were placed the certificates.

Bitter Fight in Congress Over--Brotherhoods' Appeal to President to Veto

TO ARGUE R. I.
BOOZE FIGHT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 24.—Arguments on the government's motion to dismiss the original suit instituted by Rhode Island to test the constitutionality of the Federal Prohibition Constitutional Amendment, will be held in the Supreme Court on March 8th. Asst. Attorney General Folsom and Solicitor General King will appear for the government. While the suit will be heard on the motion to dismiss all the issues involved will be argued. Mr. Folsom said today and the entire case submitted on its merits to the court. A decision at this time is expected by court officials.

EX-GOVERNOR MURPHY DEAD

(By Associated Press)
Newark, N. J., Feb. 24.—Franklin Murphy, former governor of New Jersey, is dead at Palm Beach, Florida, according to a telegram received here today by his son. Former Governor Murphy left here for the south a month ago in an effort to regain his health. He was 74 years old.

U. S. COMMISSIONER REFUSES WARRANTS IN LIQUOR WAR

State Commissioner Threatens to Lead
Troops There

(By Associated Press)
Marquette, Mich., Feb. 24.—H. B. Hatch, U. S. Commissioner, today refused to issue Federal warrants for the arrest of 6 Iron County officials charged with conspiracy to obstruct the prohibition law. Hatch declared he could not act without the approval of District Attorney Walker, at Grand Rapids, Federal Judge Sessions or Attorney General Palmer. Major A. V. Fairmyre, Federal Prohibition Director for the Central States, who asked for the warrants notified Hatch that unless telegraphic authority to issue warrants was received from the District Attorney by 2 p. m. he would proceed to Iron County with a company of his own men and a squad of Michigan state police and make the arrests without warrant.

BOLSHEVIKI CONTINUES SUCCESSSES

(By Associated Press)
Christiania, Norway, Feb. 24.—Refugees arriving at Vargo from Murmansk state that the Bolsheviki forces which captured the latter port numbered 5000 strong and assert that losses on both sides were slight. Two Russian steamers and several small boats succeeded in escaping the refugees, one of the steamers being struck by shrapnel shell. Several on board this boat are reported to have been wounded.

LIFT QUARANTINE ON WAR SHIPS

(By Associated Press)
Panama, Feb. 23.—The quarantine against the battleship Pennsylvania, flagship of the U. S. Atlantic fleet and the cruiser Columbus at the Christobel because of influenza aboard was lifted tonight. Admiral Wilson, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, is reported to be suffering with influenza but naval officers deny the rumor and declare he is afflicted only with tonsillitis.

PAPER MILLS SHUT DOWN-- NO WATER

(By Associated Press)
Holtville, Mass., Feb. 24.—Owing to low water in the Connecticut River orders were issued here today for the suspension of operations for eighteen hours beginning tonight by twenty-five paper mills that depend upon water power. This is the first time in many years a mid winter shut down has been necessary though it is not common in summer when the storage basin formed by the Holtville dam runs low. The coal and pulp situation is still reported acute.

MRS. COIT OF CONCORD DIES IN GERMANY

(By Associated Press)
Concord, N. H., Feb. 24.—News has reached here of the death in Munich, Germany, on February 21st, of Mrs. E. J. Coit, wife of Dr. James M. Coit, who went to Munich to establish a school in 1906. Dr. Coit was long vice rector and for a time acting rector of St. Paul's school here.

LABOR PARTY WILL PRESENT FULL TICKET IN N. Y.

Federation Decides Both Republican and Democratic Party Opposed to Labor

(By Associated Press)
New York, Feb. 24.—The American labor party will place a full state ticket in the field next fall, Secretary John announced today. "The only way to further labor's interest in public affairs is by the labor party," declared a resolution recently adopted by the Central Federated union. It added that the action taken by Congress on the railway situation "shows that neither the Democratic nor the Republican party is or is likely to be the friend of labor."

APPOINTED ASST. SECRETARY OF STATE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 24.—William Phillips, now Assistant Secretary of State, was nominated today by President Wilson to be Minister to the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

ARGENTINA PUTS BAN ON SUGAR

(By Associated Press)
Buenos Ayres, Feb. 24.—Argentina has raised a ban on exportation of sugar to the extent that all Argentine diplomats in foreign capitals will be allowed to receive small quantities for their personal use.

THE SUGAR SITUATION AND SHORTAGE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 24.—Despite the general complaint of a sugar shortage in this country last year, experts of the commodity during that time exceeded those of the year before by more than one billion pounds, according to Department of Commerce records. One explanation of the increase advanced by trade experts of the department is that England sent large quantities to be refined and reshipped. Exports to that country, however, were only a little more than 425,000,000 pounds, whereas, France imported more than 627,000,000 pounds or nearly one-half of the total. Italy took the third largest quantity, nearly 53,000,000 pounds. Relaxation of restrictions on shipment by the Allied countries after the war is believed here to be largely responsible for the increased exports.

EUGENE HATT
Killed in Action While Serving in France

Read an address on "The After-Death of the Soldier" in part:

"The greatness that America is, the wealth that America has, and the opportunities that America offers, depend upon the understanding of the individual as related to every day problems of life—quality and quantity of service. When the machine may be an apt at invention as a brick, when a foot black may acquire an education as productive as a millionaire, when the private in the American army can fill as important a place in combat for principle as the general over him, when character and service are the test and not privilege, then the American citizen will be a citizen and America's greatness to the world will be in the clear spring to the stars."

HUGH G. HILL

want paid, or as the steady war turning river to the arid, sudden desert sand.

"Within the past six generations our American, divinely chosen to lead the world in deeds of character and service, has evolved within itself the fruition of its own fruitful ideas and developed a purpose blinder, better and more human than the so-called over-used term of 'political liberty.' This has come about by mighty upheavals."

"First—Our Pilgrim Fathers led Europe for America's uprisings shores. As that fair ship, the Mayflower, heaved away from her moorings over there, the minister, real from the Holy Writ: 'Get thee out of thy country and from thy kindred and from thy Father's House, into the land that I will show thee; and I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thee into a great, and be thou a blessing and I will bless them that bless thee, and I will curse them that curse thee; and in thee, shall all of the families be blessed.'"

"It was then that the bands of political and religious bondage were burst and complete emancipation to a free-thinking people found its fruition upon Columbia's virgin soil. 'I have but to remind you of our own civil strife, which stretches itself across the space of four long years in which my own fair south went down (thank God) in defeat. When Lee surrendered at Appomattox there came to us the washing from the sin-cursed stains of slavery and a mighty uplift of national conscience."

"And now we are emerging from 'The Great World War.' The countries of Europe are shell-shocked, a war torn beyond repair, and our people are left in mourning, hence the sad of France's battlefields it also our own young manhood, we paid the supreme price that the world might be free. The spirit of Jean d'Aro which still lives in the hearts of her countrymen was more than the spirit of a kingdom. It was the spirit of a world-wide freedom, now now grief-stricken mothers, widows, by the ravages of war are able to pass the word down the line of the future generations. 'Viva La France! Out of this great struggle shall come the emancipation of the world.'"

As the big oak tree from the little acorn grows, so a mighty America has been produced whose world of character and service will influence all mankind. And the sacrifices of our men now fill us with equal measure and majesty and their deeds will hold the attention of the world for generations to come, if not forever."

"We believe as never before that God secures progress through upheaval and sacrifice. By these upheavals and sacrifices America stands the proof of human progress and development. By her struggles, she has come to mean quality and not privileges. By the standard of righteousness, she has endeavored to maintain, and laid down her young manhood to maintain—America now means that social and moral realities are permeated by positive principles and unyielding laws. By her grasp of the future and her battles to free the struggling generations, America has said that her children shall be taught positive desires for better living and nobler citizenship."

"By her ingenuity and willingness to bludge on into the unknown, America means that brains, character, effort, ambition, and unselfish service can then dream into noble realities. This is wonderful growth."

"It has not been long since we were devoted to the old, false gods of splendor, of bitterness and strife, those gods that have made Asia a narcotic and Europe a bomb. But the full force of the war, and the undimmed heroic spirit, we have always called up to win our victories, have brought us victories nobler than those of conquering the Hun. America has conquered poverty, America has conquered hereditary, and given every one of her citizens the uplift of manhood, and the nations brotherhood. America has conquered the instinct of savagery, in the jungle by the power of a higher instinct of fair play and the noble impulses of civilization. We cry not 'Viva La France' only, but 'Viva La Human Liberty' and brotherly love among all people. That is America."

"It was for this America our men fought and died and today they are honored by the emeralds they were able to meet and the decorations they receive are but a token of appreciation for a service which contributed undeniably to our national confidence."

"Happy is that individual whose ancestry presents a roll of worthies whose memory is a song. Happy the oncoming generation who shall rise up to cut these blessed. When friends shall mark their last resting place, whatever else they may have been, may it be said 'we honor thee for they heroism in thy stand for human liberty.'"

"What greatness it is to die in upholding a righteous cause. 'He nerves his country best and is most patriotic who has convictions of right for others and gives his life for such a cause.'"

"Greater love hath no man than this that he lay down his life for his friend."

"The cause for which these men have fought and died is by their deed, deeper devotion to us than before—The stripes of old glory never looked so red. The stars in the blue never seemed so distinct, and the whole never so beautiful as now:—all because these few human stars of service have turned to gold. There be any virtue—any praise—anything worth thinking about it is that we must be citizens more nearly true, crusaders more gallant, soldiers more valiant, against ever, force that tears down manhood or womanhood, and breaks down American ideals. God helps us never to lose sight of Christian character and unselfish service as our motto and may we ever strive to hold at our command the power over wrong. By this we may bear to the world the healing of the nations. This is my conception of the Americanism."

Governor John H. Bartlett spoke of the feeling of appreciation to America shown by France, who in the midst of her agony does not forget the boys of America who gave their lives. He referred to a century and a half ago to Lafayette, then a nineteen-year-old boy, coming over here to aid Washington and that now a century and a half later our boys went over to France and made the greatest sacrifice for liberty the world has ever known; that now splendid and beautiful is the attitude shown by our sister republic."

He and that we all should remember the object for which these heroes died. Mrs. Elizabeth Petrie Wallach rendered in a beautifully manner the vocal solo "When Pershing's Men Came Marching Into Picardy."

The program was especially beautiful and fitting for the occasion, this being given under the direction of Commander Keefe of Evelyn Petrie Post. As it closed the names of the hero dead were read from the roll of honor, the entire audience standing with bowed heads. Then all joined in the playing of the Star-Spangled Banner.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Father Bellinger in place of Rev. Mr. D. Alex Sullivan, who had been ill and was not able to be out. After the audience had passed out the next of kin to the fallen heroes were presented with the honor certificates.

The names of those of this city and suburbs who made the supreme sacrifice and their nearest of kin follow:

Lieut. Frank E. Booma—Mrs. Frank E. Booma.

Floyd Barker—Mrs. Floyd Barker.

John J. Conners—Mrs. Patricia Conners.

The principal figure of the group on the certificate symbolizes the soul and spirit of the American Army, which helped France to maintain alive the flame of the torch of liberty and justice.

The sword is not in the scabbard but ready at any moment to protect and defend against the weak and oppressed, who are symbolized in the group to the left, by a mother holding her baby to her breast, and to inspire freedom and justice to the coming generations represented by the figures of the kneeling boy, praying and thanking God for deliverance.

At the right, the figure of a man, chained and shackled, symbolizes the spirit of evil and the victory over our enemies. Also at the right, crowning the spirit of America, stands "Glory" who rejoices with the old war veteran standing to the left of the principal figure, symbolizing the armies, who are always ready to fight for the good of humanity.

Universal fame is symbolized by the winged figure, flying over the group, and trumpeting to the world, the great triumph in which the United States participated. The American eagle poses on the staff of peace, watches jealously, and stands ready to swoop in case his enemies again endeavor to disturb the peace of the world, so dearly acquired.

The entire group is framed by a border of oak and laurel leaves which are always decreed to the victors.

At the foot of the cenotaph the flags of France and America are draped and joined together by a wreath, which is the mark of gratitude and homage which France pays to our sons who gave their lives for liberty and justice. The lines engraved on the wall behind the group are taken from one of Victor Hugo's famous poems, and when translated read:

Those who died proudly for their country.

Have the right that at their graves the people come to pray."

The group is placed on a cenotaph on which is engraved, in French, the following dedication, above the signature of the President of the French Republic, Raymond Poincaré:

TO THE MEMORY OF
(Honor's Name)
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
FRANCE'S HOMAGE

COMMUNITY CLUB HAS GATHERING AT DOVER POINT

Gives Happy Surprise to One of Its Members.

The Community Club of Dover Point had a largely attended gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dame Monday evening. Despite the hard traveling, the roads being almost impassable in places, nearly fifty enjoyed the storm and came to enjoy the evening in social intercourse. The evening was made merry with games and contests of skill and luck, and music, vocal and instrumental helped to enliven the program.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, tea, cream and coffee were served in generous measure by the hostess. Miss Edith Halliday, one of the young and popular members of the club, who is soon to be married and go away to reside elsewhere, was given a most agreeable surprise, an electric chafing dish being presented to her in a long and complimentary speech, given by Mr. Dame, extending to the bride-to-be the best wishes of her friends and neighbors, and showing the high esteem in which she has been held.

The Community Club of Dover Point is a most progressive society, composed of nearly all the residents from Dover Point bridge along the Dover road for a radius of miles. They meet frequently at the homes of the members, passing many a long, dreary evening in pleasant ways. They are planning to give a minstrel show in the near future.

A meeting of the Mayor and Council will be held on Thursday evening and the Finance Committee hope to get the budget before the Council.

Rheumatism Relief—25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Exhaustive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and this in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Therefore—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body wastes cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases, where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why may you or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days, must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfaction, or cost you nothing. Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism, it improves digestion, forces the bowels, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold by druggists and recommended by your druggist.

HEAR DAVID GOLDSTEIN ON BOLSHEVISM

An Evening Certain to Prove Interesting.

Arrangements have been completed by the Knights of Columbus for the free lecture at Music Hall on Thursday night when David Goldstein, of Boston, author of "Bolshevism: Its Cure," will deliver his famous lecture on "Bolshevism: What It Is: The Remedy For It." The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock p. m. The speaker will be introduced by Governor Barrett.

David Goldstein knows his subject and he knows well how to tell others what he knows about the movement that he stands so fearlessly upon the public platform to warn Americans against embracing. It is reported that he has many friends to the cause of God and country by permitting his hearers to quiz him, for his answers, while sharply to the point, are always characterized by Christian courtesy.

It is evident that Mr. Goldstein's Socialist enemies endeavor in many ways to break down his reputation and his influence, but for all that he has a host of powerful friends. His work on Socialism was used by the late President Roosevelt in his fight against the propaganda of the "Reds." The great American advised all who were in the least confused as to the real meaning of the teachings of Marx and Engels, Dost, Neigen, and the other Socialist leaders to read the writings of this expert on the subject.

Some years ago His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell, selected Mr. Goldstein as the layman to present the Catholic view of kindred sociological problems in the Archdiocese of Boston. Writing to Mr. Goldstein relative to his latest work on Bolshevism, Cardinal O'Connell said:

"It was to be expected that this subject so closely related to Socialism would be treated by you in a clear and convincing manner, for you have given to the whole social question in its various phases profound study, and in these later years you have added to your scientific investigation the clear light of a luminous and active Christian faith."

"It is easy to perceive in this as in your book on Socialism a ready familiarity with the great Encyclicals of Leo XIII, and side by side with the technical knowledge, an exceedingly practical grasp of the problems as they affect present conditions."

"Bolshevism in less skillful hands is confusing. But you have succeeded in keeping well defined the fundamental principles which clarify and simplify the problem. You are doing valiant work, and for that reason you deserve well of both Church and Country."

"I pray God to bless your noble and unselfish labors with great success, and I know He will reward you with His consolations and benedictions."

The great Belgian patriot and prime minister, the Archbishop of Mechlin, under date of January 15, 1920, praises Mr. Goldstein's work. Cardinal Mercier writes of his "unflinching interest taken in your work, which is replete with information and doctrine and deserves to be widely known."

Admission to the lecture is free to the public. Seats have been reserved for World War veterans, who are at present making a decidedly keen interest in the world's greatest problem. The lecture of Mr. Goldstein will be of special interest to them.

SINGLE TAX CLUBS PARTY

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 24—Single tax clubs throughout the country propose this year to form a new national party, according to James A. Robinson, of Philadelphia, national organizer. The tax on land values only will be the platform frame work.

The railroad freight service is coming a little more normal, but it is far from being up to standard.

AUDITORS TO GO OVER RETURNS

Billion Dollars Additional Income Expected.

Washington, Feb. 23—Collection of at least 1,000,000,000 additional income and war profit taxes is expected by Internal revenue officials to result from an audit of the consolidated tax returns of affiliated corporations. Seven hundred expert accountants and 600 clerks will be employed.

Funds for perfecting the accounting organization are provided in the legislative appropriation bill now before the house. Revenue officials say no fraud is involved, and it is simply a case of errors in calculations.

Already 200 of the 14,500 returns of this class have been audited and show additional taxes of $41,000,000.

Besides disclosing additional payments to be made to the government, the audit also has shown over payments of taxes, which ultimately will be returned. The legislative bill provides $12,000 for completing this phase of the audit, but no official estimate of the amount to be refunded has been made. Representative Watson, republican, Pennsylvania, who has been studying the matter said today, however, that the amount might aggregate $100,000,000.

REFUSES TO BEND TO ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Ireland, Feb. 23—The Dublin Corporation by a large majority resolved to refuse permission to any employee or official to ask for a permit from the English government to discharge their municipal duties. Further the corporation refused to allow any of the officials to work where there would be danger and they will take on the night watchmen and put out the street lights at night.

Dublin, Feb. 23—An attempt was made today to blow up the barracks at the market town of Dúnabrinch, County Down. A bomb failed to explode. The town had previously been cut off from the outside by cutting telephone wires and blocking the roads with trees. A large force of police has been sent from Belfast. Corporal Quinn ask a member of the force of St. Roger's, Casement, who was hanged for treason, was found in a field with nine bullets in his body.

The fans are anticipating a wonderful basketball game next Saturday when the Springfield team play the Portsmouth Professionals. It is safe to say that they won't be disappointed.

Discrimination Not the Remedy

The recent coal-strike and threatened railroad strikes have opened the door to much discussion of the rights of workers to organize, and to strike when their interests seem to demand such action, while at the same time the claim is set up that there is no moral right, and should be no legal right to strike, on a scale and under circumstances which involve widespread inconvenience and distress on the part of the general public.

Elmer Root, who acted as temporary chairman of the unofficial Republican state convention recently held in New York, in his address touched on this subject, saying that general strikes which have taken place, and such as have been and are now threatened, make it a question whether "our American popular government is to continue or is to be changed into a class dictatorship." Mr. Root went on to say that while there should be no attempt to make any man work against his will and no attempt to take away the right to strike, there should be a law limiting the right to strike at the point where it comes to conflict with the community's higher right of self-preservation. He said: "No man and no set of men can justify claim the right to undertake the performance of a service upon which the health and life of others depend, and then to abandon the service at will. The line between such a performance and an ordinary strike should be drawn by law."

But how is this to be done without discrimination? How can the country justly permit strikes on a small scale while denying them on a large scale? That is a fair question and one that should be answered before the discussion proceeds much further.

There is a principle at stake here which must not be overlooked because of threatened trouble on the railroads and possible future troubles in the coal fields and other industries affecting the general public. This paper believes such strikes to be morally wrong, but so far as legality is concerned it is unable to see any difference in principle between a big strike and a small one.

It is to be feared that it will take a long time to devise a system which will make one kind of strike right and another wrong, especially when the only difference between the two is their dimensions.

Unionism has developed the strike as a weapon of offense and defense, and the public has recognized it. In these days of rapid expansion the weapon has grown to dangerous proportions, so much the worse for the public, and in many cases for the strikers also. As a rule, strikes are costly affairs for all concerned, and the only hope for better things lies in the direction of an evolution which shall gradually relegate the industrial strike to a place among the things that are past.

The intelligence of the country, which is not confined to any one side in the consideration of this important matter, should be able to develop a better method for the adjustment of industrial disputes, and it is not too much to hope that this will in time be done.

In the meantime little will be gained by admitting the right of a thousand men to strike and denying the right to ten thousand or a hundred thousand.

M. D. Smith, of Detroit, a contractor and director of the Associated General Building Contractors, says the railroads of the country should be rehabilitated before there is any extensive program of home and factory building. But the country wants both and will be impatient with delay at either end of the line.

Already the papers are carrying reports of crooked work on the part of men charged with the enforcement of the prohibition law. It is said that thousands of cases of liquors have been taken out of warehouses on forged permits issued by revenue agents. The matter should be "investigated."

The cost of living didn't prevent a wifurs from commanding high prices at the recent auction sale in New York, and it is to be noticed that among the buyers were representatives of French and German houses. And there is no reason to believe that they bought the skins to eat.

The patriotic service at the Colonial Theatre Sunday afternoon was an event long to be remembered. Portsmouth did its full share in the work of the war and is honored alike by the young men who returned and those who sleep in the soil of France.

The time is close at hand for the choice of New Hampshire delegates to the national convention. In the country towns this will be done at the annual meetings, a fact which should serve to enliven those events to some extent.

Worcester, Mass., is preparing to let a lot of water out of its reservoirs in preparation for a spring freshet. It is a pity the water cannot be distributed through various parts of New England where it would be gladly welcomed.

Members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra want more pay and are backing up their demands by "affiliating" with the Musicians' Union. The chances are that they are on the right track.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Endowed Athletics

(From the Boston Herald)

Middlebury College in Vermont is offered by one of its graduates a gift of $65,000 on condition that the income be used for the support and encouragement of athletics. The stipulations include the requirements that "Major athletics" only be added, and that a committee representing students and alumni supervise the spending of the annual income.

This is a gift of no unusual character and is almost unique. The arguments for its acceptance are easily apparent to all. The argument against it is well stated in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin: "The major sports are well able to take care of themselves, the minor sports require aid, and it is an open question if it is well to give further financial encouragement to such sports as baseball and football. It is well to permit the administration of such a gift to be without the control of the regular college authorities. The relations between instruction and recreation often enough, are strained, and things now are, faculties and athletic committees frequently collide in their policies. Is it desirable to permit the independence of control which this gift seems to mean? Middlebury, one of the excellent small colleges of the country, may well consider this proposition with serious care."

For the Town Schools

(From the Manchester Union)

These are the days when the school officials in the towns of New Hampshire are receiving the palpable evidence that the new educational law does in fact represent a state-wide movement looking to the equalizing of educational opportunity. Officials in 108 school districts are in receipt of communications which demand the sending of checks for state aid before March 1, which tell their own story of state-wide distribution of the cost of education. The thinly populated town which cannot possibly maintain schools of the required standard for the required period feels the strong hand of the state clamping its own in fellowship, and leaving in it the evidence of a fine, big purpose to aid that town in giving its boys and girls a chance in life.

Moreover, this is much to the point, the school officials in these towns are receiving with the announcement that their checks will be sent soon, a comprehensive statement from which this phase of the developing educational plan is like all its parts, coherently laid open for inspection. This is one of the noteworthy things about our educational endeavor. All the cards have been above the table all the time. In this instance the State Board of Education reiterates its purpose to provide full information regarding its policies and methods, and the reasons therefore. This law relating to state aid is set forth in the circular which accompanies the payments. Then it is explained that owing to a prior estimate upon some $50,000, the full amount required now, $280,500.30 could not be paid unless special provision were made. For it was found, however, that the governor and council had at their disposal an amount sufficient to meet this deficiency, and thanks to their timely co-operation, it was met, so that the full amount actually required by the state aided districts could be paid. All this is explained in sufficient detail, so that the school officials have all right to feel that they and the state board are working upon a co-operative basis, each being in the confidence of the other.

It is true that in some instances it has been necessary to pare down the budgets submitted, but it may be said also that as a rule the statements filed by the local school boards have been eminently fair. However, nothing is left in the dark at this point. The state board explains to the school officials fully the basis upon which it approves the district budgets. This is a general ruling applicable to all. With it, there is a complete analysis for each town of the state aid appropriation, so that the officials of each school district may understand fully just how their appropriation of state aid has been arrived at.

With this state distribution of state money among the towns, which brings the total of state aid for the year up to $320,000, the first phase of the educational reorganization of New Hampshire may be regarded as being pretty fully developed. The general principle of the whole state working co-operatively to the single end of equal educational opportunity for all the children is fully operative. The full working out of our great plan is a matter of years, not months, but in the first of these years the bold outlines of the plan are becoming clearly defined in actual practice. One hundred and sixty-eight districts which could not possibly maintain adequate schools unaided are enabled to do so.

What the Women Voters League Stands For.

(From the New York Sun-Herald)

Since the adjournment at Chicago of the convention of the League of Women Voters, the new organization which has taken the place of the old National American Woman Suffrage Association which was dissolved when its work was done, a select committee of board, under the presidency of Mrs. Maud Wood Park, has been in session mapping out the future activities of the organization.

There is, however, a salutary limitation ad to the authority of the board. It will try only to procure the legislation which has been recommended by the recent convention on such subjects as American citizenship, publication of the laws relating to the civil status of women, child welfare, food supply, social hygiene, the protection of women in industry, and so on. In a word the board is to exercise only strictly delegated authority and is not to be an originator as to policy. It is not to be an oligarchy.

Just as the convention proved to be divided, as between the two great political parties, in about the same proportion as would have been the case with a similar assemblage of men, it has been found that political differences exist in the board. There is therefore no chance of nonpartisanship being abandoned as its main working principle. Once it has shown a member how to perform his duties as a citizen the organization as such does not care how she uses her ballot. In fact, it is recognized that the woman voter has the same right to the protection supplied by the secrecy of the ballot as male voters enjoy.

The great work of the league will naturally be educational. Some of the women are said to be rather disturbed by the lack of knowledge displayed by much of their acquaintances on even such elementary subjects as primary elections and the practical results of political conventions as conducted at present. Of course the reason is that most members of the former ruling sex never bothered their heads about anything but registering and voting, and just quite out of their depths when cross examined about other matters having to do with the exercise of their sovereign rights.

Consequently it is not inconceivable that in the long run the new pupils of the league may find themselves in a situation to spread the light of knowledge as to citizenship among the uninitiated men of the land, who have been limited in their influence because of the density of an invincible ignorance in which they can no longer afford to indulge.

"This is 2-Mutual."

(From the Richmond Times Dispatch)
Political gossip at Washington is to the effect that former Senator James Hamilton Lewis is likely to have a solid Illinois backing as candidate for the Democratic nomination for Vice-President. For the Democratic party to have to carry both Jim Hiram and his immaculate whiskers in the campaign, would be piling too much of a load on it.

The Fourth Kind of Courage

(From the New York Sun and Herald)

It takes one kind of courage to fight a burglar when your life is in danger. That's self-preservation. It takes another kind of courage to face the burglar when only your property is in danger. That's righteous indignation. A third kind is the courage which sends a good policeman or soldier where his business calls him. That's duty. But when the burglar is in somebody's cellar at midnight and nothing is in danger except somebody else's property, the kind of courage that sends a man down the stairs is a fourth variety. It's the sort of nerve novelists give to romantic heroes. Major McMurtry and Dr. Bacon had it in an exalted degree.

Maine At Chicago

(From the Portland Press)

Maine Republicans have not lined up with any candidate. They have their favorites among the candidates of whom they are talking, but it is too early yet to determine what attitude the majority are likely to take. The Maine delegation to the convention will go unpledged, as always. There is no reason why this precedent established many years ago should be broken. The delegates as individuals may have committed themselves in the past to some one candidate, but trying the delegation up by resolutions has not been the policy of the Republicans of Maine.

It is likely, however, that the convention to select delegates to the Chicago convention will be controlled by those favoring someone candidate and its selection of delegates will be based upon this sentiment. This has usually been the case, and when the delegates to the national convention are named the Maine Republicans will know what they are likely to do.

HIS REASONS FOR VOTING AGAINST DRY AMENDMENT

Says People Should Pass Judgment on Prohibition.

United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by 200 prominent republican men and women of that state urged that "moderation rather than fanaticism, reason, rather than hysteria," should be exercised in the enforcement of the national prohibition amendment.

"The last word has not been spoken," he added, and "until it is, we must move in that spirit of fair play which results in public contentment, so essential to the orderly conduct of government."

Senator Wadsworth declared that he voted against the adoption of the prohibition amendment, first, "because our constitution is the frame work of our government which defines the limits of the powers delegate to the government by the people, and it ought not to be confused and encumbered with matters which should be dealt with in any statute law, in such a way that the changing opinion of the people may be registered" second, that "from the standpoint of practical legislation, I feared the ineffectuality of such a decree, in that were it to result in failure, acknowledged by a majority of the people, that majority would be powerless to repeat or modify the decree in the face of the opposition of one-fourth plus one of all the states—the very negation of democracy," and third, "because upon a matter affecting so intimately the personal habits and predilections of millions of good people, I think the whole people themselves should have an opportunity to pass judgment."

NAVY YARD NOTES

Returned to Duty.
Ernest Moniton of Ilye, foreman on the navy yard, who has been ill after the grippe at his home in Ilye for nearly two months, has resumed his duties this week.

Good Games Tonight.
The yard league will play the third games of the series at the Portsmouth armory this evening at 7:30. The first the destroyers Griddle and Stripling, game will be between the teams from the second game will see the second Eagle boat five up against Eagle 46. All four teams have some fast men on the floor and the games tonight will be hotly contested.

An idea that these games are open only to navy men is wrong. The public is welcome and are certain to see fast team work for a small charge that is required for admission.

Will Remain on Ship.
The yard saluting battery has been permanently located on the receiving ship Southern. The change from the old location near the administration building was made for the purpose of giving the guns better care by men attached to the ships.

Quincy Arrives.
The collier Quincy with 6000 for the Supply Department reached the lower harbor on Sunday afternoon and came up to a yard berth on Monday.

Can Lift 1,000,000.
A giant lifting crane with a lifting capacity of more than a million pounds has been completed at the fitting out pier of the Philadelphia navy yard, descriptive announcement by the navy department today said the crane which has an overall height of 245 feet, or equal to an 18-story building, was the largest of its type in the country, having been constructed at a cost of nearly $1,000,000.

The utility of the crane in permitting the installation in battleships of wholly assembled turrets, guns, boilers, etc., which heretofore have had to be dismantled for installation, can be measured, it was said, by the initial test of the apparatus in which it lifted two pounds each, in addition to 322,000 pounds of steel billets.

Want Men for Subs.
There is such a shortage of men for submarines that the navy department has been obliged to send out a special appeal to the commanders of ships and navy yards to encourage men to transfer over to this type of ship. A number of submarines are now tied up at the base at New London, and the letter requests that men fitted for this work be sent there.

Out of Hospital and Service.
Thomas H. Gallagher, ship's cook, who has been confined at the yard hospital, was discharged from the service today and left for his home in Chester, Pa.

On Short Furlough.
Captain H. L. Wyman, commanding the U. S. S. Olympia, is on a short furlough to his home in this city.

Here for Transfer.
Emory L. Sayre, chief pharmacist's mate, reported from Norfolk yard on the receiving ship Southern today for further transfer to the U. S. S. Izardner.

Three Transferred.
Walter W. Conant, storekeeper, William O. Hall, seaman, and Clarence H. Castor, fireman, were transferred today to various points as detail men.

Work Goes to New York.
The U. S. S. Olympia of which Capt. H. L. Wyman was assigned to command, has been moved for the Charleston, S. C. station to New York for repairs that were expected to be carried out at the southern station. The Olympia will be designated as a flagship in European waters.

Will Carry Stores.
The collier Quincy, when discharged, will take aboard a variety of stores from the local yard for Norfolk, which will later be transferred to some ship for the west coast.

DIDN'T KNOW USE OF RIFLE

Untrained A. E. F. Men Killed, Says Wood.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 23.—Toward the end of the World War American men drafted in July were killed in September without having learned to handle their rifles. Major-General Leonard Wood said in an address here today before the Wood for President Club, Nebraska supporters have entered General Wood's name in the Republican presidential preference primary to be held April 20.

"Such things are what we are trying to prevent through universal military training," the speaker continued. He declared a popular conception that universal military training meant compulsory training in militarism to be erroneous.

WHY SOVIETS HAVE SPREAD

All Russia Mobilized, Says Observer.

Amsterdam, Feb. 24.—A tour of Soviet Russia has been made by a staff correspondent of the Handelsblad, who is writing a series of articles describing conditions throughout the country. He deals with the morale of the Soviet armies, the compulsory military system, the ridicule of atrocities reported in the foreign press.

"Russia has been completely mobilized," he says "with all the able bodied men in the country from the minimum fighting age up to 35 years, and with officers regardless of age. There is no alternative and they are obliged to fight under the general administration of the commissaries, who are Bolshevik to the backbone."

ALLIES WILL NOT DEAL WITH SOVIETS

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 24.—The Allies will decline to deal with Soviet Russia until they have arrived at the conviction that the Bolshevik horrors have come to an end. It was announced after a meeting of the Allied Supreme Council today. The decision of the Supreme Council it was recognized precludes diplomatic relations between the Allied governments and the Moscow administration in the immediate future. The council expressed itself as pleased that the international

INJUNCTION AGAINST SALE OF SHIPS SIGNED

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 24.—Associate Justice Bailey of the District Supreme Court today signed the formal order of injunction against the Shipping Board to prevent the sale of 29 former German liners. The court consented to the request of the Shipping Board that the ship, Sevanne, which has been sold for $2,000,000 be excluded from the order of injunction. Wm. Randolph Hearst, who brought the proceedings furnished a bond of $10,000 to indemnify the Shipping Board against loss. No notification of an appeal was given by counsel for the Shipping Board but it was said that a special appeal might be taken later.

AS LITERATURE IS "MADE"

Kipling Manuscript Shows Author Possessed of At Least One Great Quality of Genius.

There turned up, the other day, in a sale of manuscripts a particularly interesting specimen of literature in the making. Mr. Rudyard Kipling sent it in typewritten copy to the editor of the National Observer, Mr. Henley, and it appeared under the title "Tomlinson" in January, 1902; but between the coming of the typewritten sheets and the appearance of the printed poem a good many things happened to the manuscript, some due to the author and some to the editor. One imagines Mr. Henley editing Mr. Kipling, a situation which the author anticipated, for against certain lines he had written admonitions and dire threats, although there is no evidence to show whether Mr. Henley let the lines stand because he liked them or because he was terrified. In another item in the same sale, one sees that Mr. Kipling first wrote the poem "Cleared" in the character of an Englishman, but when he saw it in proof he altered the phoetic spelling. Which indicates, incidentally, the capacity for taking pains which is an important factor in successful authorship, even if it falls to stand, despite a well-known quotation, for the whole of genius—Christian Science Monitor.

"BABY" AIRPLANES FLY FAST

Planes That Can Make Ninety-Six Miles an Hour Are Now in Use in Europe.

Just as the era of adult automobiles was followed by the creation of baby motorcars, so now in the aerial world there is an influx of baby airplanes. In the park, in the fields and in various other open spaces miniature aircraft are having tryouts all over England.

One of these midgets, called the "British Crow," weighs 220 pounds, and flies with almost the speed of a full-grown airplane. Another baby, called "the pocket airplane," is so small that a man can span its wings. It is 16 feet long, and the inventor, Austin Whipple, says it will achieve a speed of 90 miles an hour. A feature of this baby is that it can be folded for transport and carried inside a trunk.

The French are also dabbling in the putter aircraft. An infant monoplane is turned out by a French firm at Garsay, with a span of a trifle more than 13 feet, thus being two feet smaller than the "British Crow." Fitted with a ten horsepower ABC engine, it has a speed of 62 miles an hour, and can land at the low speed of 20 miles an hour. The average retail price of these little brothers of the Capronis, Handley Pages and Vhyns is from $1,000 to $1,200.

Monumental "Toppers."

Though there is a revival of the silk hat, which many people thought the war had made extinct as a species of headdress, few would argue that it makes a fit subject for the sculptor. Yet there are several top-hatted statues about. One at least is in the United States. It is a statue of President Lincoln. He is braided, but his "topper," a very unfashionable specimen, is carefully laid on the seat at his side. But perhaps the funniest specimen is in the Central square at Glasgow, Scotland. It represents a respected citizen, James Oswald, member of parliament, and he carries his "topper" in his right hand, held firmly by the helm and upside down. The street urchins find this "topper" irresistible. If the policeman is found the corner they play pelted pebbles into Mr. Oswald's hat. Some of them are expert at the game and the hat has to be emptied of stones quite frequently.

Eight Thousand Swiss.
Only 8,000 Swiss soldiers fought in the war. That number entered the French service.

But that is not the whole story. Out of the 8,000, 800 survived, including many wounded. The rest, 7,200, were killed. A thousand of them held up a German advance one day at Verdun; held it up until the last man of them was killed.

About 50 years ago the story of William Tell and the poem about Arnold von Winkelried were in most of the school readers that young Americans cut their eye teeth on.

The 8,000 Swiss who fought in the war well established the right of that story and that poem to remain in American school readers.—Life.

Lost His Place.

Old man Bitzer conducted a furniture store in a neighboring town. Bitzer, like many others of his race, liked his beer, so one day between customers he stepped into the barber shop, and while waiting his turn decided he would have time to enter a saloon next door and have a glass of beer. On returning to the barber shop he was much vexed to find his turn taken by another, and after a few gruff remarks said to the barber: "When a man goes out and comes right away back in, is he out?"

Some Ordeal.

"What's the matter? You look pale and feeble."
"Been through quite an ordeal. Was up to Mubdub's house last night."
"Well?"
"And drank some home-made wine manufactured by his wife and tumbled two of his Christmas cigars."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Dead Fruit."

Leaving baseball, football and boxing aside, there is no longer a great disparity between woman's and man's athletic prowess. But whether the women should be permitted to compete with the men in the golf, tennis, shooting, and other championships is debatable ground. If the men oppose it, one can hardly blame them, for it must be years before victory over a woman will be regarded as anything but "dead fruit," and defeat as anything but a disgrace.

Memory.

The qualities of a good memory are, in the first place, to be susceptible; secondly, to be retentive; and thirdly, to be ready. It is but rarely that these three qualities are united in the same person. We often indeed meet with a memory which is at once susceptible and ready; but I doubt very much if such memories be commonly very retentive; for the same set of habits which are favorable to the first two qualities are adverse to the third.—Dugald Stewart.

Subjugate.

When an army was conquered in Roman times, it was obliged to "pass under the yoke" as an evidence of defeat at the hands of the enemy. This "yoke" was sometimes made by setting up two spears and putting a third across the top. Our English word subjugate, (derived from Latin "sub," or under, and "jugum," or yoke) thus contains in its composition a spectacular custom from the military life of the Romans.

And Love.

Like a great poet, Nature produces the greatest results with the simplest means. These are simply—sun, flowers, water and love. Of course, if the spectator be without the last, the whole will present but a pitiful appearance; and, in that case, the sun is merely so many miles in diameter, the trees are good for fuel, the flowers are classified by stemness, and the water is simply wet.—Hume.

Composer's Peculiar Method.

The world's masters of art and music and literary geniuses have used different means for arousing inspiration and stimulating imagination, an exchange recalls. Thus, Grieg, the musician, when he was about to compose, used to heat his hand for several days, whereupon he would lose his appetite and his eyes would become inflamed and his imagination thereby stimulated.

First Written Presidential Message.

President Jefferson was the first chief executive of the nation to read his message to congress. The event took place December 8, 1801. Prior to this it had been the custom, inaugurated by Washington, for the president to appear in person before congress and speak his message, reading from manuscript if he desired.

Janitor.

The Romans always had a slave who stood by the door. Since the latter was called "janitor," the term "janitor" came to be applied to him. Our janitors have a great many duties other than those connected with waiting upon the door; but this duty of Roman house management is crystallized in their name.

Famous Statue of Liberty.

In 1880, on the 28th of October, the Statue of Liberty, presented by France to the United States and placed on Bedloe's Island in New York harbor, was unveiled. The total height of the colossal statue is 300 feet. The pedestal rises 155 feet and the statue towers 145 feet above it.

Low Wages in Colombia.

Wages of the native washers and placer miners in the Tlari region in Colombia average from 25 cents to $1 per day. The earnings of the native miners depend on whether the ground is worked before or after a flood, which causes natural ridges to form in bars along the stream.

Fresh-Air Friend.

Katie wanted very much to go outside the yard, which was inclosed with a wire fence and gate. By and by she ran into the house and said: "Oh, mother, if I cannot go outside, can't I just leave the gate open to let in a little fresh air?"

Biblicist's of Months.

In order of the months beginning with January they are the garnet, amethyst, bloodstone, sapphire or diamond, emerald, agate or pearl, ruby, sardonyx, chrysolite or sapphire, opal, topaz and turquoise.

USE DOGS AS SMUGGLERS

Animals Aid Illicit Dealers in Bringing Liquor and Drugs into the United States.

Training dogs to smuggle liquor across the Rio Grande river is the latest device of ingenious minds of those who make a living by means of illicit importation to the United States of liquor and drugs. That innovation in line running came to light at El Paso, Tex., recently when a Mexican river guard shot a "dog smuggler" in the act of swimming the Rio Grande with four bottles of tequila, a Mexican liquor of cactus distillation, tied across his back.

The dog, as the story of the service to his master is told by United States customs men, had been making nightly trips between Juarez and El Paso with contraband goods for several months. The strange, but regular, actions of the animal first were noted by customs officers about two months ago. Beginning at two o'clock in the morning, the dog would begin his operations. Signal lights flashed by confederates in the gang of smugglers stationed on each side of the river always preceded the dog's trip across stream. Dashing out of a cluster of squallid adobe houses along the Mexican side of the river, the animal would plunge into the Rio Grande with his load.

Emerging on the American side, the "smuggler" always was successful in eluding pursuers, who often sought to jasso the dog, being loath to shoot an unsuspecting law violator.

FOUND NEW LAND OF GOLD

New York Mining Man Reports Rich Discoveries Made in the Mines of Colombia.

A new gold region has been discovered in Colombia, according to J. V. Priest, a mining man, who arrived at New York from Santa Martin, Colombia.

Mr. Priest said that some time ago he was told by a Frenchman, who said he was a government employee, of fabulous wealth that lay hidden in the mines of Colombia. Mr. Priest, accompanied by his wife and C. L. League, a mining engineer, visited Colombia recently and spent his time in visiting various sections.

After landing at Cartagena, Mr. Priest said, he and his companions went up the Magdalena river 250 miles and disembarked, going overland through a mountainous country for 65 miles.

At the end of the journey, Mr. Priest said, they found vast gold fields which had never been actively developed because of the absence of the proper machinery. He said this is accounted for by the lack of transit facilities, it being a most difficult matter to ship material of any kind to this point.

Pedro Hath Its Sorrows.

A woman's society, whose principal activity during the war was providing entertainment for the soldiers, was about to give a dance. One of the women who had acted as chaperon meeting a demure miss who had earnestly and strenuously thrown herself into the party and dance game, asked: "Coming to the dance, Lucella?" "I think not," answered Lucella, with a sigh. "Why, what's the reason?" asked the surprised chaperon. "I would have no one to dance with," said Lucella. "All our boys are back," replied the chaperon. "There are as many men as ever." "Well," said Lucella, "we could always depend on the soldiers, but who's going to make those other men attend?"

Will Use Rifles of Veterans.

Rifles that were actually used by United States marines against the Huns in France, at Belleau, wood, Solsonis, St. Mihiel, Champagne or in the Argonne will be issued to recruits who never saw a fight when the big job just begun at the marine corps depot of supplies at Chicago is finished. All the rifles used by marines in France have been turned in at the depot to be refinished and repaired. So well did their bearers care for them that most of them can be used again. When they come out of the gunshop as good as new they will be issued to recruits, who will be inspired by the knowledge that they carry the same rifles that were used in the world war.

Had the Wrong Page.

A young miss of seven, who has memorized from numerous readings to her portions of her Chatterbox, pretends to be able to read. One evening she was seated upon the lap of a guest affecting to read one of her favorite passages relating to dolls. She was proceeding with great enthusiasm for several moments when the guest interrupted her by saying: "But my dear child, I don't see anything about dolls on that page."

"I know it," she said promptly and sheepishly. "I was reading on the wrong page." Then, turning several pages, "It's over here."

Fine Results From Simple Dyes.

A demonstration held in London by the Knox Guild of Design and Crafts showed the beautiful results produced by ordinary methods of dyeing. Some wooden stuffs woven by members of the guild with primitive apparatus were dyed with privet, bracken, gorse and other well-known plants and even with spots from the chimney, the last producing a beautiful old gold tint.

ATTENDED CLUB RECEPTION IN BROOKLINE, MASS.

Mrs. Harry Philbrick of Rye, assisted by Mrs. Lucio Preston, were hostesses at the Plymouth club reception at Brookline, Mass., on Monday. The affair was a brilliant event and much enjoyed by those who attended. The billiard room of the club where the reception took place was decorated in purple effect with colored lights. The Marion Cook orchestra, composed of fifteen young ladies furnished music for the occasion, and an inviting banquet was served. Following the reception the club members and invited guests attended the theatre in the evening. Among the guests were several from New York and Philadelphia.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

Rev. D. Alex Sullivan, P. R., announced on Sunday, the result of the recent three nights' bazaar. The total sum realized was $1942.25. Of this sum over $1400 will be available for the clergy of devastated France. This sum at the present rate of money exchange will give the clergy fund of devastated France over 25,000 francs. The fund is for the rebuilding and personal needs of the heroic French priests, some of whom remained in their villages and cities all through the war. Many of them also joined the colors and fought with the troops and have come back to their parishes to find in most cases absolutely nothing left.

A requiem mass in memory of the soul of the late Lieut. Edward Mack, U. S. A., was offered on Monday.

ROOSEVELT HERE FOR SECOND TIME ON OSBORNE CASE

Board in Executive Session at the Navy Yard Today.

The assistant secretary of the navy, Franklin D. Roosevelt, accompanied by Rear Admiral Herbert C. Dunn, commandant of the First Naval District, at Boston, arrived at the navy yard today shortly after 11 o'clock and was received with the usual military honors including 17 guns from the yard battery.

The secretary was greeted by Rear Admiral Halstead, commandant of the yard, and the various heads of the several departments. The greetings were brief and the board, comprising the assistant secretary, Rear Admirals Dunn and Halstead, went in executive session in the commandant's office to take up the charges made against the naval pension and Lieut. Commander Thomas Mott Osborne. The last named appeared before the board during the session which is understood will continue on Wednesday.

It is said that several naval men and some civilians will be called in connection with the charges under investigation. It is apparent that the board are anxious to complete the investigation as soon as possible which was justified a few weeks ago when Mr. Roosevelt was sent here.

It is known that several complaints of the board's variety, will receive attention of the board, and were eliminated by the assistant secretary when the charges were first brought to the attention of the navy department.

Mrs. Henry Terwiller was the victim of a painful accident during the electric storm of last Tuesday when a bolt of lightning struck the barn, raced across a wire clothesline and severely singed the good lady in the washbasin. Her physician says she will recover. Her many friends in this vicinity will commiserate with her on the unfortunate incident. By the way her washbasin was burned.

That this is shocking, but where was she shocked?

WHY DON'T YOU ANNOUNCE POPULATION?

Hundreds of such inquiries come to The Herald almost daily. The fact is the exact figures must be given out by the Census Department at Washington. Until announced through that channel they are a secret. The N. H. Supervisor is not permitted to give out the figures. This will answer the questions pouring into The Herald office.

WILL SERVE OVERSEAS AS RED CROSS NURSE

Miss Helen Boylston, daughter of Joseph Boylston of this city, sailed from New York Saturday morning on the steamer New Amsterdam for Europe, where she will remain for some time as a Red Cross nurse.

Miss Boylston went with a party of nurses, one being Miss Katherine Van Buskirk, with whom she was with overseas while serving during the war. Miss Boylston is not sure just where they will be sent for duty, but she expects they will first go to Holland and then to Geneva, Switzerland and later elsewhere. Miss Boylston was overseas and had a wonderful and varied experience as a Red Cross nurse during the war and the good wishes of her many acquaintances go with her.

ITALIANS SLASH EACH OTHER WITH RAZORS IN SUNDAY ROW

One Italian was severely cut up, another had a few marks of the battle and others were about to step into the fray on Daniels street, shortly before 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the police put a stop to the battle and arrested everybody connected with it. Razors were used and the ground over which they fought looked like a battlefield, for there was much blood shed.

The affray took place shortly before five o'clock when a small band ran into the police station and informed the police that there was a "murder" down the street. Officers Billingswood and Hewitt ran down and they arrived just in time, as one of the men had an axe in his hands and the police were confident that he was just about to take a hand in the scrap when they grabbed him and the axe. Officer Murphy arrived later and brought some of the others in.

The fight was going on in the front yard of the brick house which sets in from the street across from the power station on Daniel street, said to be occupied by Tony Leo. The officers found John Constance covered with blood and with a razor while over him was Earl Gallo who the police charge, with doing the cutting although he was cut about the forehead himself. Adario Waldadeneo another Italian was found with an axe in his hand and the police say that he was just about to enter the fight when they arrived. Frank Cocco and Tony Leo were also taken to the station, and they are charged with being drunk.

Constance was rushed to the hospital where Dr. G. H. Fredrick found it necessary to take 32 stitches in one wound which ran down his face and round his neck, while there were other cuts about his face and hands that required many stitches. He was weak from loss of blood, but his wounds are not considered serious.

Gallo was treated at the police station by Dr. Higgins and all the others were locked up charged with being drunk or aggravated assault.

Just what started the trouble the police have not been able to find out. All of the men had been drinking and evidently had adjourned to the yard so that Gallo and Constance could fight it out. There is no question but what somebody would have been killed but for the prompt arrival of the police, as it was in full swing when they broke into the fight on the double quick.

CHEVALIER THE LATEST AFTER STECHER

Salvador Chevalier, the latest foreign grappler to reach these shores, who wants to take the title away from Joe Stecher, is a ponderous Frenchman, who comes with a record of valiant exploits on the mat and battlefields. Though little is known of him in this country the reputation he made in his native land is such that he will have no difficulty in obtaining matches with the leading American wrestlers, and no doubt he soon will be seen in action in this country. The bulky Gaul—he has the beam at 240 pounds—won the open championship of Europe on July 6 of last year in a tournament held in the Pershing Stadium, Paris, though it is possible he was opposed by no really good mat men because of the chaotic conditions which exist in wrestling abroad as an aftermath of the war. Chevalier is not a product of any system of physical training in the French army. He was a professional wrestler prior to 1914, and abandoned the mat game to join the tricolor when his class was called. As a soldier, Chevalier was as gallant as his name implies and was twice decorated for valor.

The war at an end he turned again to wrestling and discovered that he had lost none of his skill or agility in the course of his military service. His triumph in the Pershing stadium last summer inspired him with a desire to come to America and he accepted an offer made to him by Geo. Kennedy of Montreal to come across the seas and compete for the world's heavyweight title. He reached New York a short time ago and proceeded to a hotel to Montreal, but Kennedy plans to bring him back to New York for a series of matches as soon as he becomes acclimated.

The addition of Chevalier to the ranks of the contenders for Joe Stecher's crown is a welcome one, for the public, or at least the New York public, is rather tired of looking at the small group of men who have figured in all the important contests held in that city for the last three years.

ELECTRIC ROADS STILL BATTLING WITH ICE

The battle of the electric road to clear their lines was continued on Monday and while some progress was made, there is still a lot of work and with conditions growing worse every day. Officials say frankly that unless there is three or four days of moderate weather continuous, and no snow in the meanwhile, they don't know where they will come out. There are conditions besides the ice on the rails not noticeable to the ordinary observer which is causing the roads a great deal of trouble.

The trouble with the ice on the rails is bad enough, but the equipment of the roads is being badly damaged by the increasing height of the ice between the tracks. When this ice gets over four inches above the rails, the motors fail to clear and they rest on the ice, taking the weight from the wheels and lessening the tractions and burn out the motors. This is one of the few things that the electric roads are contending with and in the small towns where their tracks are the only highway now, and where no efforts are made to clear the roads, this becomes worse and with no aid but abuse in some cases from town officials or citizens.

Monday the Portsmouth Electric road got their line open as far as Alton corner, Rye Beach and on the Lexington street line the cars are running as far as the stand pipe. The Christian shore line is being worked as far as Stark street via Bartlett street.

Over the Portsmouth, Dover and York lines, the conditions are growing worse each day. Here the narrow gauge and the increased amount of snow, with the fact that the cars tracks are used by all forms of traffic, the roads not being possible, the conditions are very bad and a big storm would take the roads up completely. Working all of the men they can possibly hire Gen. Manning W. G. Meloon's forces have reached as far as the Duck Farm on the Portsmouth and Dover and from the car barns at Kittery Point to the Perry. Here the conditions in regard to the height of ice between the rails is even worse than in this city, and growing worse. Where the tracks are used by trucks and sleighs, they force the ice up so that the motors do not clear and the result is trouble, which the constant running of the snow plow does not remedy. Mr. Meloon said last night that unless another storm came they would get into Dover tomorrow, and open that line for the fourth time since the first of February, only to have it block again.

No aid has been secured from the towns even to keeping the highway open and saving the tracks, and if conditions continue to grow worse all efforts to keep the line may be abandoned, although as long as there is a fighting chance the road will take it.

On the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury line, the road simply quit on the first big storm and announced that they will let nature take its course and free the tracks in that way. The result is that there has not been any service over these lines since Feb. 5. If the other roads did the same thing they would save money, but at the expense of the traveling public, so that it appears as though everybody should have patience and give the roads wherever possible a helping hand.

NO FRAUD IN PLEDGED DELEGATION

Concord, Feb. 23—The attempt made to prevent those interested in the candidacy of Leonard Wood from putting a ticket in the field pledged to vote for the general in case the eight men are elected to represent New Hampshire republicans in the national convention, met with failure Saturday when the ballot law commission dismissed the petition of the four men making the protest. The commission ruled that the complaint, which charged irregularities in filing of candidates did not show any fraud.

The commission, consisting of Frank J. Sullivan of Concord, Charles H. Rogers of Tilton and Attorney General Oscar L. Young, listened to an hour's argument by Attorney William L. Thayer of this city, who represented the men making the protest, Benjamin P. Worcester of Manchester, Merrill Shortell of Lancaster, Charles W. Varney of Rochester, and Fletcher Hale of Laconia.

The petition alleged that the filings of John Stannard of Exeter and William Dupont of Berlin, candidates for reelection to claim a "pledged to Wood" ticket in the primary campaign.

Only two of the petitioners attended the hearing which was made in the office of the attorney general, those present being Mr. Hale and Mr. Varney. Neither made any remarks as their attorney did all the talking for them.

Secretary of State Edwin C. Bean explained that it was customary for his office to accept instructions, changes, withdrawals and filings on ballots by telephone and through the agents of candidates. It is not the rule of the secretary of state's office to demand a written power of attorney from a reputable person who represents a candidate, though the petitioners argued that this ought to be required.

James O. Lyford, by whose direction the secretary of state indicated a pledge for Wood upon the filing papers of Mr. Bainsbrook, Mr. Barton and Mr. Stanley, was present to represent the three candidates, but was not called upon except to say that he received telephonic advice from the three candidates instructing him to file in the first district, were irregular from the fact that the papers were signed by Governor John H. Bartlett. The petitioners wanted these two candidates names stricken from the ballot to be used at the primaries on March 3.

The petition alleged that in the cases of Judge Jesse M. Barton of Newport and Alfred Stanley of Lincoln, candidates for delegates from the second district, they directed that they be entered a pledge to Wood such instruction being made by telephone. The same claim was made in the case of Fred W. Bainsbrook of Nashua, candidate for delegate at large. The petitioners alleged that in the case of H. L. Grinnell, Jr., of Derry, candidate for delegate from the first district, the filing had been made by Deputy Secretary of State Hobart Pillsbury. The intent of the petitioners was to destroy the force of the Wood ticket by making it impossible for these to change their filings from "pledged" to "pledged for Wood".

During the argument of Attorney Thayer it was disclosed that the petition would affect a Democratic candidate, Gordon Woodbury of Bedford. It was stated that when Mr. Woodbury filed as candidate for delegate from the first district he did not make any pledge, but later thru Robert C. Mitchell, Democratic national committeeman, changed his filing papers to show that he was pledged to support the candidacy of Herbert Hoover.

The commission made its ruling public following an executive session of about three-quarters of an hour. Neither of the two petitioners who were present at the hearing remained to hear the announcement of the commission's ruling.

H. S. DEFEATS MANCHESTER HIGH

The High school basketball team playing in old time form defeated the Manchester High at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Saturday afternoon by a score of 26 to 23. This is the local best win of the season as Manchester has been winning the greatest part of her games.

Kirkpatrick was back in the line up for the first time since he was injured in football, and he shot the winning basket. The high school played more like they should play and their passing and floor work was superior to the visiting team. There were a number of penalties as both sides were in their eagerness to win over stopped the rules a great many times, but both were weak in getting baskets from free throws.

Victory played the star game for the Manchester team and P. Badger, Varney and Kirkpatrick were much in evidence for the locals.

The summary:

Portsmouth H. S.	Manchester H. S.
Foran 1 f	1 f Foster
Varney 1 f	1 f Folsom (Lose)
Badger 1 f	1 f Varney
Kirkpatrick 1 f	1 f Varney
Leary 1 f	1 f Varney

Score—Portsmouth 26, Manchester 23. Goals from the floor, Varney, 4; Kirkpatrick, 3; P. Badger, 2; Vitat 2; Hamor 2; Gates 2. Goals from fouls—Kirkpatrick 5, Hamor 5, Referee 11. Shots—Schmidt, Referee, Beuchman.

PRESIDENT'S NOTE ON WAY TO ALLIES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 23—President Wilson gave his final approval today to the draft of his note replying to the Entente on the Adriatic question. While no official information was given out it is thought that the note is either being called or has been already sent to Ambassador Davis in London. The receipt of the reply is expected to be followed by the giving out of the entire correspondence between the President and the Allies, as the foreign government have said to agree upon its publication.

BIG SHORTAGE OF SILVER IN ORIENT

London, Feb. 23—Use of the silver standard in oriental countries, coupled with the enormous commercial expansion now in progress between the West and the East, indicates that there is an immense shortage of silver to meet the demands of trade, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

One result of this shortage, says the American Chamber, is that American and Mexican silver mines may look forward confidently to an era of unprecedented prosperity for many years to come. Silver, it is understood, must also be found to back over $30,000,000,000 worth of paper money issues floating in Europe today. In addition, to which America's increasing volume of trade with India and China calls for almost unlimited supplies of the metal.

The United States and Mexico furnish nearly three-fourths of the world's yearly output of silver, the larger portion coming from the United States. As the price of the white metal advances it has become profitable to most countries to convert mined silver into bullion. Small "change" continues to disappear on the European continent with remarkable rapidity, postage stamps largely replacing the former silver coin of small value.

The United States is said to be the one country in position today to supply silver for coinage without debasing its standard coins.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Old Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing muscles, neck and bust, and reducing ugly humpback and knock-knees, the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who feel they need their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to impaired nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Phosphorus is the element which builds up the body, and it is the original phosphate known among druggists as "bone phosphate," which is indispensable and is sold by most all druggists under a variety of names, and is a welcome transformation in the appearance of the thinness in weight frequently being unobtainable.

Phosphorus in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, and eyes brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

While "bone phosphate" is unobtainable for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding "fat-producing" foods.

ARRESTED FOR IMPERSONATING PETTY OFFICER

Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 23—Impersonating a petty officer in the U. S. navy and stating that he had a refractory prisoner that he was taking back to the navy yard, Earl W. Marks of Malden, aged 18, called at the police station Saturday and asked City Marshal McLean to lend him a pair of handcuffs. He said his prisoner was a deserter and that his name was George H. Carron, 17, of Haverhill. The marshal gave him his own handcuffs and a key to unlock them. Marks was in naval uniform. When they came she notified police headquarters and Officers Houghton and Pike placed them under arrest. Marks was dangling the handcuffs in his hands and Carron was free. After the young men reached the police station a telegraph message was received from Mr. Madden in charge of a Haverhill recruiting office. He alleged that a man in naval uniform had victimized the Red Cross of Haverhill out of $8 and asked to have him apprehended. Marks and Carron were held charged with falsely claiming to be members of the United States navy. The police were informed that guards from Boston would come after them.

PROHIBITION REVOLT A HOAX

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Feb. 23—An expedition bent on ironing out by force if necessary opposition to prohibition in upper Michigan, was started from here this evening by Federal Director A. Z. Dainoff from Iron County, where it is reported that the County Officials have overpowered federal officers and seized contraband wines.

Iron River Mich., Feb. 23—There has been no such hoax, but over the country since the false report of the signing of the armistice, than the report sent out of the armed revolt against prohibition, said District Attorney P. A. McDonough in an interview today. He said that there had been no rebellion, that Iron County is a clean county and that prohibition was being enforced to the letter, and that his officers had and were giving the federal agents every aid, and that he had wired the Governor, the State Attorney General and the U. S. Attorney General at Washington demanding that full investigation be made to find where the report came from.

HAMPTON FALLS MAN GETS FORTUNE

Haverhill, Feb. 23—Charles E. Sturgis of this city, a retired harness dealer, and his two sons, Guy E. Sturgis of Haverhill and Walter H. Sturgis of Hampton Falls, have recently benefited from gifts of Mrs. Nellie Gaynor of Los Angeles. She is distributing her fortune while alive rather than have it distributed after death.

Mrs. Gaynor, who is 87 years old, and has lived for the past 5 years in California, where her husband, the late James Gaynor, was a leading architect. The Gaynors went west shortly after the Civil war and it was an architect and real estate operator that Mr. Gaynor amassed a fortune, which he left his wife when he died 15 years ago.

Mr. Sturgis, who is a brother of Mrs. Gaynor, was engaged in the harness business in Haverhill until he retired 10 years ago. Guy Sturgis was for many years engaged in the restaurant business in Haverhill, and the other son, Walter, was for several years engaged in the meat business, moving 5 years ago to Hampton Falls where he bought a farm.

A short time ago Guy Sturgis was summoned to California by his aunt, Mrs. Gaynor, who made known her plan to distribute her fortune. Letters received from the two brothers say that each is to receive $250,000 and that their father is to receive $100,000.

UNITED STATES ARMY builder of MEN

TEN years ago it was necessary for the United States Army to argue men into its ranks.

But, today the Army like every other great university, points with pride to its graduates.

Four million of the nation's choicest young men were entrusted to the Army's care.

MOST of them are back in the ranks of industry today; and every parent in America, every employer, every teacher knows that they are better, abler men for their experience.

They stand straight upon their feet, a symbol of physical fitness.

They have learned how to execute orders, and how to give them.

THERE is, in their characters, a maturity beyond their years, a vision and a self-confidence that are fundamentals of success.

The months that they gave to the Army were not lost months; the records of the future will show more rapid progress for them because of the qualities which those months developed.

Where the U. S. Army serves

American troops are serving in Panama, Hawaii, the Philippines, Alaska, China, Germany, Siberia and here in the U. S. A. The Recruiting Sergeant will gladly give you all the details.

Like every one else in the American General to Buck, Private, you're under orders and if your outfit moves and you're needed elsewhere, your duty is

THE United States Army is open for enlistments today. It wants no inferior applicants; it seeks young men of character and purpose; and it promises those young men that the term of their enlistment will be fruitful years.

They will come back to civil life in perfect health—their muscles, their eyes, their bearing all evidencing the finest professional care.

IT IS the purpose of the War Department to develop in the American soldier those qualities which are the essentials to success in any trade or business and are the prime requisites in an American citizen.

Congress has appropriated $2,000,000.00 to be used in Educational work in the Army Schools. In many camps and posts men are being trained in the skilled trades and at practically all Army stations, schools are in operation in which the soldier can improve his education.

Through enlistment the United States Army offers opportunities to travel. It provides good food, good clothes and good care. It gives a training which brings health—physical development—mental quickness and self-confidence. It sends you back to civil life better equipped for American citizenship than when you enlisted.

A Personal Interview Involves no Obligation

THE NEAREST U. S. ARMY RECRUITING STATIONS ARE:

Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

The Fourteen Arms of the Service

The Recruiting Sergeant can give you the information that will help you decide which branch fits you best. In all of them you will get the fine training as a soldier the United States offers all its men—in many branches you can get highly specialized training.

INFANTRY—The men who have made the name of "doughboy" feared and respected throughout the world welcome you to the comradeship. Fine fellows—good fun and good training in any school at the post you go to.

CAVALRY—When the horses are champing at the bit and the "yellow legs" mount up and the troop rides forth, there is a thrill that no old cavalryman can ever forget. Horse of your own—a good outdoor life and training for future success.

FIELD ARTILLERY—"Action Front" comes the command—then watch the boys with the red hat cord snap into it. A happy outfit—with the dash of mounted service added to interesting work that calls for head and hand. Motors if you wish.

CORPS OF ENGINEERS—Army engineering is known the world over for its excellence, and an enlistment in the Engineers can be the start of a young man's training in the various branches of Engineering and in any of the mechanical and building trades.

COAST ARTILLERY—Living on the sea coasts, guarding big cities with big guns, getting time for study and a wide and good technical training, the C. A. C. man is preparing for a useful life and good pay and is having a good time while he's learning. The C. A. C. also mans the mobile big gun regiments throughout the country.

AIR SERVICE (including BALLOON CORPS)—The man who gets the early edge in experience with aeroplanes and balloons has a chance to cash in big on his army training. For flying is only in its infancy and its going to be a profitable business for men with the right experience.

ORDNANCE DEPT.—The ordnance is appealing to the studious young American. To wide opportunities for study, it adds a business as well as a technical training.

SIGNAL CORPS—Whether its laying a wire from a reel cart at a gallop or installing a wireless station that will flash its message half around the world, the Signal Corps is there and a man who learns radio telegraph and telephone work in the Signal Corps is always valuable.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT—Good experience, good pay and training in all branches of hospital work and in the Dental Corps. Excellent opportunity for future success. The Veterinary Corps teaches the care of horses as well as meat and milk inspection.

TANK CORPS—The man who knows gas motors and tractors or who wants to know them is invited to join the Tanks. Radio, machine gun and ordnance work are all part of the Tank Corps work.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS—The corps that feeds and clothes the Army offers a valuable training for future business. Interesting work for the man who lives horses in the Remount Service.

CONSTRUCTION DIVISION—Practical work in the many trades is part of the every day life of the Construction Division. Many opportunities to learn the trades of highly paid specialists.

CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE—For a man with a little knowledge of chemistry or for any ambitious young man who would like to get that knowledge, there is interesting work and rapid advancement in the C. W. S.

MOTOR TRANSPORT CORPS—A thorough practical training in motors and their accessories, and in driving as well, is given in the well-equipped schools of the Motor Transport Corps.

CONGRESS IGNORES LABOR PROTEST

Washington, Feb. 22.—By a majority of 190 yeates, the House Saturday adopted the conference report on the Esch-Cummings bill, providing for the regulation of the railroads after their return to their owners on March 1, by Presidential proclamation.

The final vote, which was 250 to 150, came directly after the House refused by 225 to 171, to send the bill back to the conference for the elimination of the features against which the strongest objections were lodged. The Democrats and labor representatives attacked the conference report for five hours, but with virtually no effect. Republican ranks stood virtually solid for the passage of the bill and to them must go the credit for the passage of legislation before March 1.

Action by the House Saturday, it is admitted, virtually assured that the measure signed by the President before March 1, as present indications are that the Senate will approve the combined bill by a decisive majority. Efforts will be made to take up the bill in the Senate on Monday, but its consideration may be delayed until Tuesday.

Guarantee Section Attacked.—The guaranty and labor provisions were the two sections against which the attack in the House was directed today. The Democrats rallied against the guaranty section, which provides that the Interstate Commerce Commission shall adjust rates, so that the carriers will receive a return of 5.12 percent on their aggregate property value, the claim being made by Representative Burkeley (Ken) Representative Sims (Tenn.) and others that the bill in its present form will mean increased rates with decreased efficiency, and that it is unfair to thus favor the railroads.

In the debate in the House really made the action a party question. Republican Leader Mondell (Wyo) made it plain that the Republicans are willing to stand back of the bill as a campaign issue, and declared that the question before the House was "whether or not as a party we are qualified to legislate along constructive lines." Democratic Leader Kitchin (N. C.) urged the members of his party to oppose the measure for the same reason.

One of the surprises of the day was the way that the labor opposition to the bill flailed out. The overt threat of the labor organizations to oppose in the next election all members of Congress who voted for the legislation apparently had little effect. Nearly all of the twenty-three Republicans who voted against the measure were the so-called labor representatives, who usually vote as the labor organizations demand.

EDWARDS FOR ANTI PROHIBITION PLANK

(By Associated Press) Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 22.—Governor Edwards of New Jersey announced today that he intends to go to the San Francisco convention and fight for an anti-prohibition plank in the democrat platform. He attacked W. J. Bryan as a man without a state and declared that he could not hurt the party if they were for anti-prohibition. Gov. Edwards said that both parties must recognize that the prohibition question was a red hot issue in this coming campaign.

PEACE TREATY IN FOR ANOTHER DELAY

(By Associated Press) Washington, Feb. 22.—The peace treaty side tracked by the railroad bill in the senate causes some uncertainty as to when the final action on the ratification of the treaty will be taken. The action of the Senate on Saturday when the irreconcilables in the republican party voted with the democrats against the Lodge amendment leaves the situation doubtful. It was indicated today that a careful canvas of the senate will be made before this next session is brought up. This is Article from the spot transcriptions of the entire reservations.

EXPRESS DRIVERS QUIT WORK AT LAWRENCE

(By Associated Press) Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 22.—Eighteen drivers of the American railroad express company refused to go to work today and announced that they had resigned. They claim to have several grievances one of which was that the local manager was to discharge one of their number. They were willing to arbitrate, and if not would seek to get the inside workers to side with them and go out.

LABOR PARTY WOULD BE THE RUIN OF LABOR

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 22.—Formation of a political labor party would be detrimental to the best interest of labor and exactly in line with what is ardently desired by those who are opposed to labor. Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation wrote William Mitch of Terre Haute, a leader of the Indiana state labor party, Mr. Gompers whole in reply to a telegram received from Mitch regarding the recent offer-

ance of the Executive Committee of the Federation on the political question. Mr. Mitch declared in favor of a labor party. Mr. Gompers said that the effects of a separate labor party would be disastrous to labor, the votes which in its absence would go to the best man in the field would be otherwise lost. He said that there can be no hope of success if a labor party was formed. The effect would be the defeat of our friend from Mitch regarding the recent offer-

WOMEN NEED NOT STAND IT

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Surely Removes Suffering and Pain. Here is Proof.

St. Paul, Neb.—"I suffered with periodical pain for about four years so that I was unable to do my work at times. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. It soon stopped all my suffering so that I can now feel fine in every way. I recommend your medicine to my friends who have similar troubles. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. Wm. Thomas, St. Paul, Neb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who now are free from suffering by its use.

INCOME-TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

"John Doe has owed me $500 for two years. I have given up hope of payment. Am I allowed to deduct that amount in making out my income tax return for 1919?"

The answer of the Bureau is: "Yes, if you have exhausted every reasonable means for collection and have charged off the debt in 1919 as worthless."

To be allowed as a deduction, a debt must be charged off within the taxable year in which its worthlessness is discovered. The return must show evidence of the manner in which worthlessness was discovered. Statement should be made that the debtor has been discharged in bankruptcy, or has disappeared leaving no property, or that the ordinary methods of collection have been exhausted. As stated by income tax regulations, "where all the surrounding circumstances indicate that a debt is worthless and uncollectible, and that legal action to enforce payment would in all probability not result in the satisfaction of execution on a judgment, a showing of these facts will be sufficient evidence of the worthlessness of the debt for the purposes of deduction."

Payment of an ordinary debt not charged off as worthless is not income to the creditor, since it is mere change in form of capital. Whenever, however, a debt deducted as worthless in some previous year is in a later year recovered or partially recovered, the amount received is taxable income to the creditor for the year in which received.

A frequent claim for deduction is made for loans to relatives and to friends.

Before a debt can be deducted its character as a true debt must be proved. Questions such as this reach collectors: "If I advanced a sum to assist a needy friend or a relative, having at the time little or no reason to expect that it would be returned, may I claim a deduction to cover such advance?" The answer is "No." Such an advance is regarded as a gift, and is not held to be a bona-fide debt.

A valid debt which is proved to be worthless is not always a proper deduction. Treasury regulations provide that worthless debts arising from unpaid wages, salaries, rentals, and similar items of income will not be allowed as a deduction unless the income such items represent has been included in the creditor's return for the year in which the deduction is sought or in a previous year.

Where the creditor continues to extend credit to the debtor, a debt may not be claimed as worthless. A debt may not be charged off and deducted in part, but must be wholly and entirely worthless before any part may be deducted, though it may be clearly worth less than the face amount. It is a deduction, because it is then regarded as a gift, which is not an allowable deduction.

RAILROAD LABOR LEADERS WORRIED

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 22.—Railroad labor is not satisfied with the way things are going in respect to their demands for more wages, this was indicated in an unmistakable manner at the conference of the union officials and the general committee called here to pass upon President Wilson's settlement proposals. The passage of the railroad bill by the Senate tonight only served to add more bitterness to the talk of the union workers arriving here. The committee chairman, who are more in direct touch with the workers than the officials, tonight brought with them strike talk, but the higher officials were inclined to discount this as the real sentiment of the workers. There were indications, however, that the Union heads who have been working with Director General Hines were worried lest all that which has been accomplished might be wrecked.

IDEAL Guardians of the Home! $118

New IDEAL-Arcola Radiator-Boiler

Reduces living cost for small homes!

You'll stop dreading winter, you'll stop having chill halls and drafty floors, you'll stop all coal-waste, and you'll enjoy the ideal comfort, the health protection and the cleanliness by putting in at once an IDEAL-Arcola Heating Outfit.

The IDEAL bargain in low-cost heating!

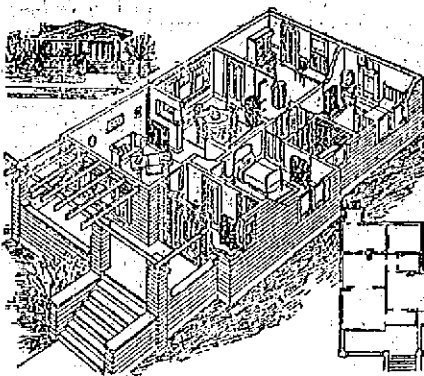

The IDEAL-Arcola heats the room in which it is set, but being water-jacketed, the excess heat is absorbed by the water and is made to circulate to the other rooms by pipe connected AMERICAN Radiators. Stops all coal-waste. Heats all rooms uniformly. No cellar is needed. Same water is used over and over for years.

If there are two or more tenants in the building, each can have his own Arcola and make the temperature to suit his own needs—can make his own climate! If you do not wish at first to heat the entire building, buy a small size IDEAL-Arcola and one or two radiators (at less price than quoted below) and later on buy extra sections for the IDEAL-Arcola and two or three more radiators to warm more rooms. Easily put in OLD Houses in winter weather without disturbance to occupants.

Changes your house into a home!

Unlike stoves, there are no coal-gas leaks into the living-rooms. The IDEAL-Arcola delivers the soft, radiant warmth of hot water—not the dry, burn-out atmosphere of stove heating. There is no fire risk to building—no danger to children—fire lasts for hours! The Arcola burns hard or soft coal, coke or gas. Brings cost of heating down to the lowest mark—and guards your home forever against discomfort and fuel-waste!

Catalog showing open views of houses, individual flats, stores, offices, etc., with the IDEAL-Arcola Boiler in position will be mailed (free). Write today

CARDINALS AND BISHOPS LETTER TO CATHOLICS

The following is a copy of the letter of the Cardinals and Bishops of the United States, in the United States Conference, which was read at all of the Catholic churches on Sunday.

The archbishops and bishops of the United States in conference assembled to their clergy and faithful people:—Grace unto you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Beloved brethren of the clergy, beloved children of the laity:

Thirty-five years have elapsed since the Fathers of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore addressed their pastoral letter to the faithful of their charge. The interval has been marked by events of far-reaching import for the welfare of mankind. The greatest of these, the World War, is finally ended. And now that God, in His mercy, has restored the nations to peace, it is fitting that we offer up praise and thanksgiving to Him for the blessings which he has bestowed on the church at large and especially on the church in our country.

Under the guidance of three illustrious Popes—Leo XIII, Pius X, and Benedict XV, the church has shown, in various forms the power with which Christ endowed it for the salvation of men. Its history has been strengthened by a closer union of its members with their head, the Vicar of Christ. Devotion to the person of Our Lord and of our Blessed Mother has steadily increased. The piety of the faithful has become deeper and stronger through frequent communion and daily attendance at mass. Works of charity have multiplied and the Catholic education has grown with fruitful vigor in all our institutions.

We rejoice with our brethren of the clergy in the splendid results of their labors among the people—in preaching the Word of God, administering the sacraments, establishing schools and building churches.

You, likewise, beloved children of the laity, we heartily commend for your faith, for your zeal in supporting the cause of religion and for your hearty co-operation with your pastors in all good works. With great charity you have responded to their appeals in behalf of the poor, the afflicted of every class, and the helpless little ones of Christ. You have shown your faith by your works; and God will surely reward you.

Catholic Education

We refer with pride and gratitude to the growth of our Catholic schools. It is an evidence of the interest you take in the Christian education of your children. You are convinced as we are, that religious instruction is not only a part of education, but the most important part. It is the surest means of preserving our Catholic faith and of training children to become good men and women. It teaches them to respect authority, to obey law and to be as careful of the rights of others as they are of their own rights. It is the best preparation for citizenship. By supporting our Catholic schools you render most valuable service both to the church and to our country. There is no more genuine patriotism. We desire to encourage your efforts in the cause of higher education. In order to preserve the good results of their training in their elementary schools, our pupils should continue their studies in Catholic high schools and colleges. The time which is necessary to complete their education will be spent with profit. They will gain thorough knowledge of our holy religion, together with the instruction which they need to prepare them for any pursuit in practical life.

Negroes and Indians

It is mainly through education that we shall improve the condition of the Negro and Indian races and enable them to enjoy more fully the blessings of civilization. Both justice and charity require that they be given the full opportunity of which they have been so long deprived. In the eyes of the church, as in the sight of God, all men have been redeemed at the same great price; and all have need of the same spiritual guidance and the same good will on the part of their fellow-men. We therefore, invoke the divine benediction on those who are laboring in the interest of the Negro and Indian; and we deprecate more earnestly all attempts at stirring up racial hatred, which so often express itself in deeds of violence unworthy of a civilized nation.

A further education problem demands our attention and our united effort in behalf of those who come to our country as immigrants. For the most part, they have but vague ideas of American life, institutions, and government. Hence, they are easily misled, and brought under influences which would make them openly or secretly, the worst enemies of order and of religion as well. We are especially concerned that our Catholic immigrants shall preserve their faith and, in accordance with its teachings, become useful citizens. Let them understand that respect for law is an essential part of their duty, that the church requires it of them wherever they may be and that, to deserve the blessings of freedom, they must lead an upright Christian life.

Catholic Societies

In solving our educational problems and in widening the scope of our charities, we look with confidence to our Catholic organizations. They have given innumerable proof of their zeal; by defending the rights of the church, by protecting young men and women against moral dangers, and by uniting their efforts for the promotion of worthy causes. They will now in the same Catholic spirit put forth their energies in spreading the sound ideas of social and industrial reform. For these are urgently needed.

Catholic War Activities

The entry of our country into the war gave American Catholics a new occasion to prove, as they had so often proved before, their patriotic devotion. The value of our organizations for the public welfare was at once recognized. With the initiative taken by the Knights of Columbus, the unselfish spirit of the Catholic Young Men's association, and the enthusiasm shown by the organizations of Catholic women, we realized that it was necessary to unify our activities. With this object in view, the hierarchy established the National Catholic War Work Council. Under its direction provision was made for the moral and physical welfare of our Catholic soldiers and sailors. Chaplains were supplied for the men in camp and those in service abroad. In every possible way our people showed their appreciation of the men who were offering their lives for our country.

How well deserved and how productive of good were these patriotic efforts is plainly to be seen from the records of Catholics in every branch of the national service. We are very proud of their loyalty. We honor their heroism. We are grateful for the example they have given us. Let us pay them the highest tribute by imitating their fidelity to duty, their sacrifice of self and their devotion to the cause of freedom.

America's Pledge to the World

We went into the war and ended it. In any material sense, we had nothing to gain. We fought to make the world a better place for all mankind. In proclaiming our purpose, we held up our country and its institutions as the hope of humanity. The pledges we gave must be redeemed. As our Holy Father, Pope Benedict XV, declares, the American people, "retaining a firm hold on the principles of reasonable liberty and of Christian civilization, are destined to have the chief role in the restoration of peace and order on the basis of those same principles, when the violence of those tempestuous days shall have passed."

Our Present Situation

Though the war is ended, our country is not yet restored to its normal condition. On every side, there is unrest and agitation. The conflict of class with class makes progress impossible. It threatens to undo the splendid things which the union of all our people accomplished. It is importing into our country the very evils which brought disaster on Europe. If America is to be preserved, for its own sake and for the sake of humanity, a remedy must be found for our present situation.

Justice and Charity

Christianity requires that we accept two fundamental principles as the basis of our human relations. These are the principles of justice and charity. The application of these in private and public life is the first step toward the restoration of peace and order.

Justice obliges us to give every man his due, just because he is a man. It prescribes respect for the rights of the individual, of society and of the state. It binds us to the keeping of agreements and to the observance of law. It forbids slavery either of a person or of a community, or of a whole body such as the Church or Nation. It is intolerant of fraud and dishonesty by whomsoever committed, whether in private transactions or in dealings with the commonwealth. It demands that punishment be meted out with equal hand to all who violate law, irrespective of class, station, or influential position.

The observance of justice and charity must begin in the heart of each man. Through its quietness and sanctity law may compel us to do what is just; it cannot force us to love our neighbor. But the reign of law itself will be more complete and secure when willing obedience does away with the need of compulsion.

Let us not, then, wait for some general movement that will carry us all together along the pathway of justice. Let us not beguile ourselves with the idea that an atmosphere of love will somehow be created and spread abroad without any thought or effort of ours. That blessed air of peace must spring in the individual soul, and thence diffuse itself through all our human relations.

Marriage and Divorce

As life and its relations have their origin in the home, whatever strengthens the family life will contribute to the good of society. On the contrary, all those influences and tendencies which weaken the bond established by marriage are pernicious. They destroy the home and corrupt our social relations at the source.

The Catholic Church does not and will not sanction divorce in the absolute sense which permits either of the separated parties to marry during the lifetime of the other. The ease and frequency with which divorce of this kind is granted, make it a national scandal. The bond which ought to be most sacred, is regarded by too many as a trivial circumstance, as something of less importance than an ordinary business agreement. So far as this idea prevails, it removes the one safeguard of decency and purity in the sex relation. In a permanent union, that relation possesses a human character; in a temporary arrangement, it falls to the level of animal impulse.

This degradation of marriage leads to a more intense selfishness by making individual pleasure or whim the one decisive factor. It consequently tends to deaden the spirit of charity just where, naturally, love should be strongest.

The sense of justice also will be dulled. If the obligations assumed through marriage can be so lightly cancelled, it is hard to see what value shall attach to other covenants when these are not enforceable by law.

Reorganization

Catholics will do their full share toward the complete restoration of peace. With one mind and heart they will labor for our country's advantage. As their patriotic efforts were united to each other's effort through the Na-

CITIZENS AID IN SHOVELING OUT ROAD

Supt. Bill Dowdell is beginning to shove once more, for Sunday after the hardest kind of work, in which he was cheered by the volunteer assistance of residents along the line, he had the main line opened to the Perkins siding at Rye Beach and the Middle street line open to the Plains and headway made on the Islington and Christian shore lines.

The storm of Saturday night did not bother them, but this was from the ice of Wednesday, which covered the tracks with anywhere from two inches to a foot of ice, which had to be picked by hand. In five over thirty of the men of the town reported as a volunteer crew to help the large crew employed by the railroad and they did great service and when they dropped their picks and shovels at dark Sunday they were tired but happy over their fine showing.

On the Middle street loop upwards of thirty odd citizens living in that section turned out and worked the greater part of the day. With pick and shovel they cleared the tracks and by night the cars had reached the plains. On the Islington street side the line was open to Ruffland street and on the Christian shore loop as far as Dennett street. Unless something else sets in to bother the entire line will be on regular schedule by tonight.

Local Catholic War Council, we have determined, for the ends of peace, to publish the spirit of union and co-ordination through the National Catholic Welfare Council. Under its direction our needs and problems in the several fields of education and social reform will be carefully studied. Means will be taken to secure and publish correct information on all matters affecting the Church and Catholic life. The work of our organization will be developed and directed toward the fuller attainment of Catholic aims.

The National Shrine

In this regard we cannot refrain from expressing our gratitude to the Holy Father for his unflinching counsel, direction and encouragement, particularly in his recent letter to the Bishops of the United States, in which he commands most cordially to our Catholic people the happy completion of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at the National Capital, as a noble monument of our love for Mary Immaculate, the Celestial Patroness of the Church in the United States and the glorious Queen of Peace.

Let us once more remind you of two essential duties. The first, that you continually offer up prayer and supplication for all men, beseeching the God of Mercies to direct their hearts in the way of peace and concord. The second, that you show forth in your own lives, in your homes, your social intercourse and your dealings with others, the beauty of our Catholic faith, its power to strengthen the soul in truth, its efficacy for the accomplishment of the duties which charity and justice prescribe.

Doing these things you will advance the Kingdom of God upon earth and give honor to our Lord Jesus Christ.

Given at Washington, September 26, 1919.

JAMES CARDINAL GIBBONS
Archbishop of Baltimore.

BARNYARD GOLF TOURNAMENT

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 23.—"Barnyard Golf" enthusiasts from all parts of the country were entered in the national championship horse-shoe pitching tournament which began here today. The contestants, headed by Fred M. Ernst, of Columbus, Ohio, national champion, include many of the most noted players of the game. Several teams among employees of rubber goods manufacturing concerns, also were entered, their employers having announced they would send them here in order to encourage the sport among the factory workers. The Akron delegation will attempt to secure the next national tournament for that city.

Before concluding his remarks Mr. Ernst cited many instances of what had been done in communities, by communities, by communities, in the great movement to make our country 100 per cent American.

WOMEN'S CLUB TO CHANGE MEETING DAY

At the Woman's Building, on Friday afternoon, the Woman's City Club listened to an address of unusual interest by Mr. Charles F. Ernst. At the opening of the meeting the Secretary announced that after March 1st the regular meetings of the club will be held on Thursday instead of Friday. At the conclusion of the program, tea was served, Mrs. Seth Jones presiding, assisted by Mrs. D. W. Badger and Mrs. Albert Walker.

Mr. Ernst, the speaker of the afternoon, is a representative of Community Service, Incorporated, and was formerly associated with Robert A. Woods at the South End House, a Settlement House in Boston. By direction of the national organization, he is temporarily located in Portsmouth, by request of a number of citizens, for the purpose of studying the needs of the City in the way of improving community service, and to act as counselor to the individual, club, fraternal organization, church, etc., that is ready to take up this most laudable branch of service or that may become interested in taking it up.

Mr. Ernst made three divisions of his address, answering respectively the questions: "What is Community Service?" "What does it try to do?" "How does it try to do it?" Briefly, he traced the origin of the present movement from the Playground Association formed in 1906, to the War Camp Community Service Incorporated 1917, then to Community Service, Incorporated 1919. He outlined the goals of Community Service, with its two great aims: 100 per cent Americans in a 100 per cent American Nation. The organization by training citizens to develop initiative and desire for public service; by training them for leadership; by fostering in them unity, pride in homes and surroundings, the desire to keep up the morale of guests within their gates; by incalculating in them the desire for physical education and good health; by teaching them the real meaning of recreation and the pursuit of happiness, as expressed in service; and, finally, creating in every individual the desire that his home be an American civic center.

He then told convincingly how Community Service operates. The plan, as outlined by the national organization and carried out successfully in hundreds of American cities, is to organize a Council of men and women representing the various kinds of service which already exist in the community.

This Council examines the needs of the Community and sees in what measure the needs are being met by existing organizations. From out duplication wherever possible, and stimulates existing organizations to take on problems which are not as present being solved. Endeavors to assist in obtaining public support for worthy organizations which are in difficulty. This Council makes an especially close examination of the off-duty time of the Community with the idea of having each of the organizations represented in the Council assume the responsibility for some part of the free time of their own group of people. If the examination shows that there is a lack of recreational equipment for the whole community or for any one part, the whole Council becomes an organization to secure the required equipment.

This Council holds institutes for training leadership in recreational activities. It encourages public celebrations of all kinds as opportunities for all the people to join in a common demonstration. Community singing, drama, art, pageantry, athletics, or musical, chorus of valuable Americanization work. They also serve as magnets to bring out the latent talent in a community.

Before concluding his remarks Mr. Ernst cited many instances of what had been done in communities, by communities, by communities, in the great movement to make our country 100 per cent American.

FINE SUM FROM BAZAAR FOR FRENCH AID

The societies of the Church of the Immaculate Conception have contributed a fine sum to the clergy of devastated France as the result of the recent bazaar and different entertainments. The total sum raised as announced by Rev. D. A. Sullivan the rector was $194.25 of this sum over $1400 was secured from the three nights bazaar at the school hall and the remainder from various smaller entertainments held during the winter.

This sum at the present rate of money exchange will give the clergy fund of devastated France over 25,000 francs. The fund is for the rebuilding and personal needs of the heroic French priest, some who remained in their villages and cities all thru the war and the greater part who joined the colors and fought with the troops, and who have not come back to their parishes to find in most cases absolutely nothing left.

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR TURKEY

(By Associated Press)

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—The American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant has undertaken to organize a Levant House in New York City for the mutual benefit of business men and others, either here or in America, who are interested in the Near East. The suggestion originated with G. B. Raymond, American Commissioner and Consul General here and honorary president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

It is proposed to establish the Levant House along the lines of the India House, one of the historic clubs of New York, but with the modern equipment of other well-known business, engineering, or foreign trade organizations already centered in New York. One of its purposes would be to record and commemorate America's contribution to the advancement of civilization among Egyptians, Arabs, Armenians, Turks, Greeks and Bulgarians. Literary research and lectures upon this topic would be actively encouraged.

The American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant has named, partly among its officers and directors at large, a group of active business men in the United States to whom it has entrusted the work of carrying the Levant House scheme into execution. These are: C. E. Lydecker, Ralph Milton Odell, Edward Neville Voss, Lucian Irving Thomas, Edward Ewing Pratt, E. C. Porter, H. M. Hitecock, H. M. Day, and Harold Hoskins of New York City; Herbert Adams Gibbons of Princeton, W. T. Ellis of Philadelphia and Luther Fowler of Boston.

It is believed that the movement will be furthered also by men like Cleveland H. Dodge, James A. Farrell, Arthur B. Macphar, E. H. Husley and C. H. Minor, life members of the American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant, and Henry Morgenthau, Abraham L. Blakes and William C. Redfield, honorary members of the Chamber.

GIRLS GAME POSTPONED

The Evelyn Peble Legion basketball five who were to have played at Haverhill on Saturday night were notified that the game was postponed, owing to the fact that there was so much influenza in that city. The game will be played at a later date.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

BEAR OIL

for HAIR

AN INDIAN'S SECRET

One of the potent ingredients of hair lotion for the hair is genuine bear oil. There are other hair lotions and creams in the market, but none so good as bear oil. It is the secret of the Indian's hair, which is so thick and glossy.

Why become or remain bald if you can grow hair? Use bear oil. It is the secret of the Indian's hair, which is so thick and glossy. It is the secret of the Indian's hair, which is so thick and glossy. It is the secret of the Indian's hair, which is so thick and glossy.
